

NSW Branch of the Australian Institute of Physics

Application Form for Financial Support to attend Conferences

Financial support is available from the NSW Branch of the AIP for NSW members to attend conferences, in areas directly related to physics.

To be eligible you must:

- be a bona fide student
- be a current financial member of the AIP
- apply for support using this form before the Conference
- submit the following with your application:
 - brief letter from your supervisor stating the importance of you attending the conference and what other financial support you have applied for e.g. from your university.
 - evidence that you are contributing to the conference e.g. invitation from the conference to present a talk.
 - proof that you are attending e.g. receipts such as airline bookings.
- submit a brief report (~ 1 page) on the conference after returning. This may be put on the NSW AIP website and/or 'Australian Physics' publication. Photos are welcome.

Support will not be offered to the same student more than once in any calendar year, except where one of the conferences is an AIP Congress.

Financial support is not guaranteed and the level of support may vary depending on demand, and the level of participation at the conference. The maximum amount will not exceed $500.

To apply, send a completed copy of the application form to the Honorary Secretary of the AIP NSW Branch, along with the appropriate documentation. (The address can be found in the 'Australian Physics' publication or the NSW AIP website.)
